Buntu and Bubbly

Written and illustrated by Sorit Gupto

Bunty loves to play with butterflies...

...and with birds.

She loves to play with paper boats.

She also likes to make sand castles.

When Bunty goes back home, her mother asks her to clean up.
But she refuses.

"I hate soaps!" she screams.

One night, she has a dream.
The germs are all around her castle, and are attacking her.

Bunty is chased
by the germs.

She runs for her life and screams,
“Help... Help!”

Suddenly, Soap King Bubbly appears.
“Bunty, don’t be afraid,” he says.

“Go attack the germs!”
the Soap King orders his army of bubbles.

The army of bubbles chases the germs away.

These days, Bunty likes to use soap, and she brushes and scrubs herself clean.

Read India

Pratham Books was set up in 2004, as part of the Read India movement, a nation-wide campaign to promote reading among children. Pratham Books is a not-for-profit organization that publishes quality books for children in multiple Indian languages. Our mission is to see "a book in every child's hand" and democratize the joy of reading. If you would like to contribute to our mission, please email us at info@prathambooks.org.

Sorit Gupto is an illustrator and cartoonist by profession. He started writing and illustrating books as annual birthday gifts for his daughter. Now he does this regularly since she asks for a new story everyday! She is his biggest critic and admirer. Sorit believes he is growing up even as his little daughter grows up.

Bunty does not like soaps. So, she refuses to clean up.
Then one night she has a dream.
What happens after that?
